THE SHELBY PRES (S)

Published monthly by Shelby Presbyterian Church

Sisters and Brothers in Christ,

Beloved, my family and I need your prayers.

This month, Claire will have surgery to remove a golf-ball sized tumor. Initially, doctors said it was benign lipoma, or fatty mass. After it seemed to grow, she had an MRI and was referred to the Levine Cancer Institute for a possible malignant liposarcoma. The surgeon believes it may be lipoma, but only after it is removed, will we know for sure.

In our church, far too many of you are in a similar, or more difficult situation with cancer or other health concerns. Our prayer list is long. Yet more of you should be on the list, having only to this point, confided in me or another person close to you for prayer.

I believe there is power in prayer. But the miracle of prayer is not found in getting what we want from God, but in the very act of wrestling with God. Too often, we give control of our lives to someone or something other than the one true God. In our culture today, we have an illusion of control, and often, we want to control God.

In Genesis, God promises a blessing for Jacob, just like his grandfather Abraham. And like Abraham, Jacob conspires to take that blessing on his own terms. He tricks his father Isaac into giving him the family blessing promised to the eldest son. Then Jacob goes on the run, fearing his brother's revenge. When he returns, he expects a fight.

He sets up his camps for defense and goes off on his own. There, in the night, he wrestles with a mysterious figure, who injures Jacob, making him unable to fight. This figure blesses Jacob with a new name, Israel – meaning one who wrestles with God. Humbled, Jacob goes to his brother and finds grace, where he expected war.

Beloved, in the face of illness, death, and tragedy, God goes before us, preparing the way. By faith, we wrestle with God, and it humbles us, giving us eyes to see God at work, even when things are not as we expect them to be.

I don't have answers for why God allowed Helene to destroy so many lives. I don't have answers for why God allows faithful Christians to be divided by worldly idols, like politics, economics, and culture. I don't have answers for why faithful Christians have to face cancer and other illnesses, even death.

But what I do know is that God is with us, ready to embrace us, be it with a loving hug or in our wrestling and it is by humble prayer that we recognize God's presence. I will continue praying for you and I ask you to pray for us.

Embracing Change, Even When It's Hard

As the weather shifts and the crispness of fall begins to settle in, many people, like my husband Joel, absolutely love it. He thrives in the cooler air, relishing the beauty of autumn and all the changes it brings. Picking up leaves? Really? But for me? Well, I can feel my body starting to shut down! I'm a warm-weather person at heart—I love my flowers, sunshine, and everything that comes with summer.

When our basement flooded again after Helene, I knew I couldn't just push things aside. I had to really sort through everything and decide what to keep and what to let go of. As I was working through the mess, Lavery, my oldest son, came up to me and said, "This is really hard for you, Mom, isn't it?" And he was right. It was hard.

Change, whether it's the shift in seasons or being forced to face things we've avoided, can be tough. It's uncomfortable, inconvenient, and sometimes overwhelming. But it's also necessary. The several boxes I went through and the treasures I found helped give me a peace. While it was hard to go through several boxes that I had been holding onto for so long, there was a sense of peace afterward, knowing that some of the clutter was cleared.

I also thought about the recent hurricane and the powerful reminder it brought of how change, even the unexpected kind, often brings people together. In the face of destruction, where people's lives were completely changed, we watched as neighbors and communities came together to help one another—offering support, meals, and a helping hand to those in need. It is a beautiful example of how, when things feel overwhelming, God places the right people in our lives to lighten the load and remind us that we're never truly alone.

In the same way, the changing seasons remind me that God is always at work, even when it feels uncomfortable. He's constantly shaping us, helping us to let go of things that no longer serve us, and making space for new growth in our lives.

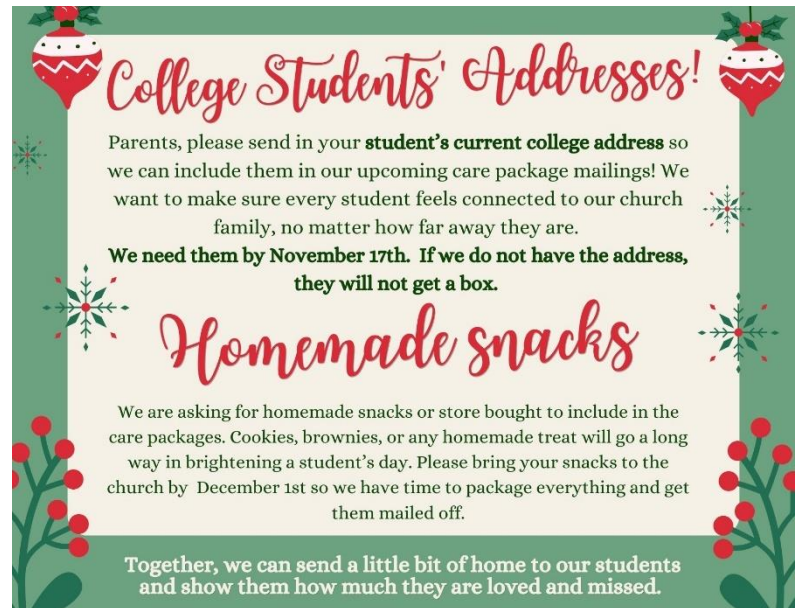

So, whether you're like Joel and embracing the cooler air, or more like me, missing the warmth of summer, remember that change—no matter how hard—can bring something valuable with it, even if it's just the chance to grow. Change has its way of moving us forward.

College Students' Addresses!

Parents, please send in your student's current college address so we can include them in our upcoming care package mailings! We want to make sure every student feels connected to our church family, no matter how far away they are.

We need them by November 17th. If we do not have the address, they will not get a box.

Homemade snacks

We are asking for homemade snacks or store bought to include in the care packages. Cookies, brownies, or any homemade treat will go a long way in brightening a student's day. Please bring your snacks to the church by December 1st so we have time to package everything and get them mailed off.

Together, we can send a little bit of home to our students and show them how much they are loved and missed.

THE RAINBOW CONNECTION PRESCHOOL

This month we spend the majority of our days discussing the things we are thankful for, and how we can express our gratitude.

On November 21st we will have our Thanksgiving Luncheon at 11am in the fellowship hall. We ask all of our families to donate items to create "Cowboy Soup", and everyone eats for free! It is a wonderful example of how everyone can come together for one meal.

Some of us sit around a table every evening to share our meals, and some of us grab a slice of pizza for the youngest on the way to pick up their older sister from track. Whether you are the parent that spends hours on supper, the busy parent driving all over, or the parent that forgot to take the chicken out- we can always remind our little ones about being thankful.

Thankful for clean water, thankful for power, thankful for slices of pizza on the go, and thankful for each other.

We are also thankful for our SPC community for all of the wonderful things they do for us at Rainbow Connection.

"Let them give thanks to the Lord for his unfailing love and his wonderful deeds for mankind."

(psalm 107:21)

SPC Reports & Minutes

SESSION MINUTES AUGUST 20, 2024

Clerk's report: Discussion was held on Communion schedule, and decided to follow current system of Miranda preparing the position assignments, leaving it to active assigned Elders to secure replacement when they are unable to serve. Elders suggested making edits to the schedule at the Officer Retreat on Jan. 12, and then reporting any changes to Miranda. Communion preparation has been handled (very capably) by Margie Trivett, who is no longer an active Elder. Preparation will be handled beginning January by a Communion Subcommittee, chaired by an active Elder.

Diaconate Report: Michelle Moser reported the TV in Narthex Parlor is now working in "real time" with sanctuary speakers using a temporary set up until a more permanent one is complete. On Heritage Sunday, all present will receive a 2x2 square of the church tartan material. The October 2 Wednesday night meal will be Presbyterian chicken, and program will be given by June Hobbs on the section of Sunset Cemetery where African Americans who were segregated or enslaved were buried. Church picnic on October 13 Kathy and Larry Wilson's.

Pastor's Report: Pastor Drew reported that 150 church members attended weekend retreat at Montreat's Assembly Inn (with no complaints from Montreat Staff!). He emphasized the unique nature of our church having so many people attend a retreat. Elders recommended we continue closing the church office on the Monday after Montreat to recognize all the hard work by pastor and staff in preparation for, and while at Montreat.

Minutes and online votes: Minutes of August 20, 2024 meeting were approved on motion of Susan, second by Bill—unanimously approved.

Finance Committee – Carolyn J reported the deficit from July continued for August largely due to property improvements. Utilities continue to be under budget, but other expenses have arisen that needed to be addressed.

Personnel Committee – Laura reported that Personnel is searching for another nursery worker. The Anti-Racism policy developed by the congregation in the Spring book study and worked on by Personnel and Drew, was discussed, and was unanimously approved as submitted.

Property Committee – Bill reported 10 to 12 volunteers showed up for church workday August 31, working inside and out. Bill has estimate of $14,600 from Quality Insulating to insulate ceilings in second floor educational wing. Motion to approve expenditure by Mystie, second by Steve; unanimously approved. Bill is seeking bids and building code requirements on insulating, heating and cooling, and weatherproofing of the part of the white house behind the church that is used in our food ministry. Drew is also checking with Presbytery re possible grant-funding targeted to food programs.

Music and Worship – Steve reported on the 2025 Communion schedule. After correcting the February date to February 2, 2025, motion by Carolyn J, second by Bill, unanimously approved.

Old Business – None

New Business – Blood drive scheduled for October 15 in Ellis Hall.

Drew reported on the sale of the former John Knox property to Family Worship Center, the congregation that has been renting it from Presbytery. It is unclear what will be the outcome of the final John Knox Session request that 10% of any proceeds received by Presbytery be donated to Shelby Presbyterian Food Ministry.

Action Items: Drew will send Anti-Racism Policy to Presbytery. Larry will work on Communion Schedule with Miranda. Anti-Racism Policy to be attached to these minutes.

FOURTH QUARTER DONATIONS: As we come to the end of the year (believe it or not), we are looking out for any "end-of-the-year" donations from stocks. If you give in this way, please arrange for those donations to be in the office before Christmas or immediately after. That would be very helpful. The office will be closed for Christmas Eve, Tuesday 12/24, Christmas, Wednesday 12/25, Thursday 12/26 and Friday 12/27. Thank you for your cooperation.
